Clayton, Close Friend of Bryan, Sounds Keynote in Speech in House.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, Munsey Bullding, Washington, D. C., Feb. 6. It looks like the Democrats will cry calamity to a very great extent in the coming campaign. It was the burden of a considerable portion of the speech of a considerable portion of the speech made in the House to-day by Representative Clayton, of Alabama, a member of the Democratic National Committee and one of the closest friends Mr. Bryan has in Congress. The applause which the speech received from the faw Democratic members on the floor at the time indicated that the line prices of hundreds of suits—all this season's make?

Do you realize what it means to you in money saving when at one swoop we cut from 20 per cent. to 40 per cent. off the prices of hundreds of suits—all this season's make?

One of these clippings stated that there were in Chicago alone 75,000 unemployed workingmen, for whom free lodgings and soup-houses were being provided. "Soup-house Democrats" was a phrase often used by the Republicans in 1898, alluding to the hard times which came during the second Cleveland administration, when free soup was provided idle laborers in many cities. The writer had three members of the stouse who are committed to Representative Flood, and three members of the Senate who promised Benator Martin to support Mr. Flood as being for Mr. Lloyd.

Another member of the committee who is for Flood was listed as being for Ryan.

When the members in question were approached to-day they expressed displessive in being put in the attitude of supporting Lloyd, when it was not their intention to do so. One of them said that it was sheer nonsense to talk about his being for Lloyd, that he had never for a moment thought of supporting him. The Sign of Quality. Speaking of Harold Bauer,

The great pianist whose playing delighted a large Richmond audience, a local musician of prominence, remarked: "Whatever shade of difference in opinion there may be among critics as to the fine points in Harold Bauer's playing, there can be no difference of opinion as to the quality of the magnificent Mason & Hamlin grand piano upon which he played."

Mr. Blumenberg's "Reflections" in the Musical Courier, of January 22, 1908, contains the fol-lowing excerpt, again speaking of a Bauer concert:

"And he seemed to be in love with that grand piano, though an instrument of distinction and of superb tonal equipment. Noble, I would call the quality, and just such a piano with which an artist is raised into the realm of eloquence. The program said it was a Mason & Hamlin, but the pianos of that make are of such individual caste and are so distinct in their tone coloring, so thoroughly identified with a fixed artistic attribute, that it was not necessary to look for the name on the program to have the impression confirmed. As soon as Bauer began to play, it was lelt that it could not very well have been any other than a Mason & Hamlin."

The Mason & Hamlin the grandest creation of all the world's finest Pianos. Same Price Everywhere The Cable Company,
